Not illustrated. 1899 Excerpt: . is a constant practice for girls who register at such places to be sent to supposed employers, only to find, upon reaching their journey s end, that they have been imposed upon. The New York State Free Employment Bureau has thrown every safeguard around the interests of both employer and employee. We have insisted, in cases where help is wanted in the country, that the railroad fare shall be paid to the destination and that the employer shall meet the employee to conduct her to the place of employment at the other end. On the other hand, we have insisted that all applicants who desire to have their labor placed shall keep any appointment made, and any one failing to do so forfeits the use of this office. Every effort has been made to ascertain the qualifications of applicants for the work sought. Letters asking for information from former employers as to the character and ability of the applicants have been very much to the credit of the people who seek to place their labor with us. As to the people for whom we have found employment, few complaints have been made, indeed, as to their ability and qualifications, and in but two cases was the complaint made by the employee that wages were not paid as per agreement, and a letter from this office to the employer has been successful in righting any such wrongs. A reference to the table published herewith shows an...
