The period under review has been marked by a series of bold financial measures, which have remodelled the details of British taxation, and have conferred upon this country a degree of prosperity unexampled in its previous history. These measures include the revision, on four separate occasions, of the Customs Tariff, the repeal of the Corn and Navigation Laws, the abolition of the great majority of Customs and Excise Duties, and the negotiation and ratification of the French Treaty. The arguments employed for and against these measures have been stated, as far as practicable, in the language of the various speakers as recorded in Hansard's Parliamentary Debates. The statistical tables have been compiled from the annual statements issued by the Board of Trade and the Commissioners of Customs and Inland Revenue. The author returns his grateful acknowledgments to the numerous gentlemen who have rendered valuable assistance in the prosecution of his work, especially to those who, by supplying information respecting the present rents of land, have enabled him to show that the development of free-trade principles is beneficial to the Landed Interest.
