Palgrave Macmillan. Hardcover. Condition: New. 272 pages. This book rewrites the history of Australian literature as the rough beginnings of a new literacy. Farrells investigations of the colonial, material page begins with Bennelongs letter of 1796, and continues through bushranger Ned Kellys famous Jerilderie letter, Jongs Chinese-Australian phrase-chains, Harpurs proto prose poem, Dorothea Mackellars coded diaries, Christopher Brennan-does-Mallarm (and collage), and ends with Mary Fullertons quotation game Bromide. Here you will find songs, letters and visual poems by Indigenous farmers and stockmen, the unpunctuated journals of early settler women, drover tree-messages and carved clubs, and a meta-commentary on settlement from Moore River (the place escaped from in The Rabbit-Proof Fence). The book borrows the figure of the assemblage to suggest the active and revisable nature of Australian writing, arguing against the settling effects of its prior editors, anthologists and historians. It resists offering a new canon, but offers instead an unsettled space in which to rethink Australian writing. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Hardcover.
